

Rebuilding Lives

C - Creating

A - Autonomy

T - Through

C - Collaborative

H - Healing

Anyone interested in learning more should go to <https://bit.ly/MuniCourt> or scan the QR code above.

CATCH COURT
COLUMBUS

Presiding - Honorable Municipal Court
Judge Jodi L. Thomas

375 S. High St., Columbus, OH, 43215
Telephone: 614-645-2757

For more information, contact CATCH Court Program Leader Gwen England at CATCHCourt@franklincountymunicourt.org.

CATCH Court

Where Treatment and Justice Meet

An inclusive program for women who want to exit human trafficking, prostitution, and sexual abuse, by addressing the root cause of the behavior, maintaining community safety, and facilitating the rebuilding of lives.

80%

National Recidivism Rate for Women
In Prostitution

18%

Recidivism Rate for
CATCH Court

Additional facts:

- More than 100 women have graduated.
- This program is certified by the Supreme Court of Ohio.
- More than 94% of women have been victims of sexual or intimate partner abuse.
- The program now services Franklin County Municipal and Common Pleas courts.

Many women who have been sexually exploited, been involved in prostitution or have been victims of human trafficking often share one commonality. Nearly all are victims of trauma.

CATCH Court is a two-year structured program that connects women with social services, employment, transportation, acceptance, and support, allowing graduates to transition from dependency to freedom.

Where Treatment and Justice Meet

Services offered through the program include:

- assistance with housing.
- job coaching.
- employee assistance.
- peer support.
- counseling.
- work with a probation solely assigned to help the women in CATCH Court.
- group meetings weekly with Franklin County Municipal Court Judge Jodi L. Thomas.
- and more.